

New CSI leaders to be elected today

By JEREMY LEE

The Courageous Students Initiative of students will be voting today to elect the 2008 CSI leaders and vice presidents for the year.

The names of candidates were not available to all voters until last night, as the current directors are eligible.

The president can call them for an event and the directors cannot question, request or prevent growth of the current members.

Students are to vote for the CSI president and vice president tonight and the students body to elect the new directors. The people who will speak on their behalf will be the current directors of CSI.

As a vote-taker, voting today will be the first to be held in the history of the CSI. Why they should consider each member's vote.

This year's president, Rory

Steele, is the first to be elected in the history of the CSI.

"The election might not be the most high-profile campaign, but it's still very important," she said. "It's a great way to help the school."

The candidates have a minimum of 15 members to present a petition to the board, and will not be present for the election committee.

There will then be a 15-minute question and answer period for all the candidates.

After the candidates have left the room, the board members will be the first to vote. The board will then vote to elect the new directors.

Students can help by going to the election and voting. It is a chance for all of us to have a say in the future of the CSI. It is a chance for all of us to have a say in the future of the CSI.

Plenty of ways to exercise at the rec centre

By ANDREW SCHMIDTKE

Students may be aware of the centre at the library and weight centre. But what they might not know is that there is a whole centre below the stairs in the basement.

Playing sports is always fun, but playing a lot of sports is always more fun. The centre has a lot of sports and games, and it's also a great place to go to if you want to go to the gym.

If you're interested in a sport, one of the best options is to go to the centre and see what's going on. The centre has a lot of sports and games, and it's also a great place to go to if you want to go to the gym.

Condors winless at hockey tourney

By JORDAN KRAM

Despite their talent and ability, playing the Condors got you a lot of love. Hockey is a fun sport to play, and you can see it in the way the Condors play.

At the beginning of the season, the Condors had a lot of talent. They had a lot of players who were good at hockey.
